Context: NASA released an image taken by its Solar Dynamics Observatory (SDO) where the Sun seems to be “smiling” as a smiley-like figure was made due to the presence of dark coronal holes

A coronal hole is a temporary region of relatively cool, less dense plasma in the solar corona where the Sun’s magnetic field extends into interplanetary space as an open field.

Sun's Corona is its outermost layer containing plasma above the chromospheres and extends millions of kilometers into interplanetary space. Due to the presence of a strong magnetic field, usually in closed loops, the temperature in the Coronal layer is above 2 million °C compared to ~5000 °C on the surface of the sun.
