Dust of Snow

|--|---|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. It is a winter's day. 2. The treetops were covered with masses of snowflakes. 3. The poet was walking under one such snow-covered tree. 4. This tree was a hemlock tree, a conifer associated with poisonous qualities. 5. A crow alighted on the hemlock tree suddenly. 6. The sudden movement of the crow, the mass of snowflakes started falling down the tree. 7. The snowflakes fell down upon the poet who was standing under the tree. 8. The mass of snowflakes was so light and fine that it looked like the dust of white snow. 9. The sudden movement and arrival of the crow and the falling of the flakes of snow look like just ordinary happenings. 10. But the falling of fine snowflakes on the poet leaves a tremendous effect on him. | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 11. Before this, the poet was in a gloomy or despairing mood. 12. However, this simple beautiful act of nature has a very comforting effect on him. 13. The fall of snow over him changes his mood and mental state. 14. It gladdens his heart. 15. Before this incident, that particular day was not going too well for him. 16. He had decided in his mind that day would go waste. 17. However, the fall of snowy flakes on him makes him realise that the whole day has not been wasted. 18. At least, this part of the day when he is enjoying the snowflakes, has been saved. 19. At least, some part of the day has been pleasant. 20. If he had not experienced such a pleasant experience, he would have regretted at the wastage of the whole day. |

Fire and Ice

|---|--|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The poet feels that this world of ours will come to an end. 2. He is not very clear when the end will come. 3. He comes to this conclusion on the basis of what people say on this subject. 4. He seems to show his agreement at what people say regarding the ending of the world. 5. On the basis of what people think, the poet believes that this world will come to an end by the two highly contrasting but powerful elements of nature — fire and ice. 6. Either fire or ice or both will be the cause of the ending of the world. 7. Then the poet links these two powerful natural elements to human beings and their emotions. 8. In the first stanza, the poet shows his agreement with those who believe that fire will cause the end of the world. 9. He links the element of fire to human emotion of desire or passions. 10. Uncontrolled fire of passion and desire may lead us to the end of this world. | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 11. Then, the poet comes to the second alternative that can cause the end of this world. 12. It is the 'ice' which can also cause the end of the world. 13. In terms of human emotion, ice means 'hate' created by 'cold reasoning'. 14. Cool and calculated icy reasoning can lead to hate and can be the cause of the end of this world. 15. The poet himself has experienced both these primal emotions of love as well as hate, fire as well as ice, passions as well as cold reason. 16. He has experienced enough of hate which is born out of icy cold reasoning. 17. In the end, Frost agrees that it doesn't matter whether it is fire or ice, both can cause the end of the world. 18. 'Ice' or 'hate' born out of cold reasoning is quite sufficient for causing the end of the world. |

|---|---|
| <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The tiger is not in his natural habitat. 2. The wilds or the jungle is the natural habitat of the tiger. 3. Unfortunately, the denizen of the forest, has been confined to a caged habitat in a zoo. 4. He is no more free to roam about in the forest but walks within the length and breadth of his cage. 5. He has dark spots on his skin which are clearly visible even from a distance. 6. Condemned to live in his cage, he walks around quietly with his velvety soft feet. 7. He is angry but has to suppress it. 8. In his quiet rage, he continues walking up and down his caged habitat. 9. The poet imagines how the tiger should behave if he is in his natural habitat — the wild jungle. 10. There, he should be silently hiding himself in the shadow remains unnoticed. 11. Sliding through the long grass he should move stealthily to ambush his prey. 12. He knows where he can find his kill in the wild. 13. His favourite hunt is the plump deer which he can find near the water-hole. | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 14. Sometimes, he comes out of the forest and strays in human settlement at the edge of the jungle. 15. There he terrorises the villagers by opening out his white fangs or the long teeth and the claws. 16. His ferocious looks frighten the villagers. 17. However, he has no intention of entering the village and .killing anybody till he is highly provoked. 18. Unfortunately, the mighty tiger is cursed to live in a concrete cell in the zoo. 19. Many visitors come to see him in the zoo but he doesn't like the stares of the visitors. 20. He simply ignores their presence. 21. Now, he is made to limit his movements only to the length and breadth of his caged habitat. 22. The tiger keeps awake till late in the night. 23. He hears the noise of the patrolling cars moving around in the zoo. 24. The brilliant stars shine in the sky and his brilliant eyes shines in the night. 25. He can't free himself but he keeps on watching the brilliant stars standing behind the bars of his caged habitat. |

1. The young boy lost his ball.
2. He was playing and saw the ball bouncing down the street.
3. Then, in the end the ball fell down into the water and lost forever.
4. The boy sees everything happening before his eyes but he is helpless.
5. He only stands there helplessly moaning at the loss of the ball.
6. The loss of the ball may appear to be an ordinary incident.
7. It seems that boys lose such balls many times while they are playing.
8. The boy should not make a fuss over it.
9. The loss of ball is symbolic. It has a deeper meaning.
10. The loss of the ball is the loss of childhood and the loss of his dreams. And if it is lost, it never comes back again.

11. Similarly, we can't console the child that he can have another ball.
12. Actually, he is sad that the ball he has lost can't be brought back.
13. The innocent childhood that he has lost can't be replaced or bought back with money.
14. Wealth can't buy life and time.
15. Ultimately, a change comes in the grieving boy.
16. He comes to know that losing is a part of life.
17. The loss must not break his spirits.
18. There is no use of grieving over what has been lost.
19. He must stand up to face such losses with courage and determination.
20. Life has to be lived and not wasted in grieving and mourning over the losses suffered in the past.

SECTION A - READING SKILLS

I. Read the passage given below.

1. Hobbies help us grow as a person. The best way to have a new hobby is to try something new. All of us are unique, and this is the reason why our hobbies and interests are different. Once we find an activity we are passionate about, we can explore that activity more. When you get hooked, you will realize that your hobby has become an integral part of your life. Having a hobby that we enjoy brings us joy and refreshes us. Hobbies help us to manage our leisure and unplanned time more productively. It also affords you the opportunity to learn new skills in your work. But these are not the only benefits of having a hobby.
2. It feels great to be skilled and good at something, doesn't it? And this is what that makes you confident. It can take some time to develop your hobby so that you may be able to tell that you are skilled. But, the journey of experiencing your hobby is very rewarding in itself. With the exposure to different types of activities these days, it doesn't matter which activity you choose. Whether you are pursuing a craft, sports, puzzles, or skill development, your hobby should be a diversion and a passion. Simultaneously, if your hobby gives you a sense of purpose, then you will be more confident about challenging yourself in your hobby and help you prepare for learning new things at work.
3. Hobbies give you an opportunity to enhance your life. Hobbies allow you to de-stress yourself while remaining mentally productive. Having hobbies promotes better health and may lower the risk of having high blood pressure. Enjoying a few hours of your hobby a week can also reduce the risk of depression and dementia. Hobbies refocus your mind on to something that you enjoy doing. Hobbies that include physical activities create chemical changes in your body that help to reduce stress.
4. Even if it doesn't involve physical activities, you can still reap the benefits of having a hobby. Getting a short break from work and doing something you are passionate about can rejuvenate your mind and help prepare you to handle challenges in the future in a better way.
5. Hobbies may provide an opportunity for you to socialize with people and that can be an additional benefit for your overall well-being. You can connect with people who enjoy doing the same things that you do. You can meet new people, discuss your hobby and get connected to a bigger circle that may even help you turn your hobby into your profession. The internet provides numerous groups and forums to connect with people that enjoy doing the same things that you want to do.
6. Some hobbies require creativity and if you develop creativity through your hobby, it can be beneficial. Creativity can help you experience new things at school and work. The skill of being creative is essential in today's world.

SECTION C – LITERATURE

V. Reference to the Context 10

1. Attempt ANY ONE of two extracts given. 5

1.A That evening, after I'd finished the rest of my homework, the note about the essay caught my eye. I began thinking about the subject while chewing the tip of my fountain pen. Anyone could ramble on and leave big spaces between the words, but the trick was to come up with convincing arguments to prove the necessity of talking. I thought and thought and suddenly I had an idea. I wrote the three pages Mr. Keesing had assigned me and was satisfied. I argued that talking is a student's trait and that I would do my best to keep it under control, but that I would never be able to cure myself of the habit since my mother talked as much as I did if not more, and that there's not much you can do about inherited traits.

Q(i). What is the main feature of an essay according to Anne?

Q(ii). Anne's argument about talking was that:

- (a) talking is a fundamental right
- (b) talking is a student's trait
- (c) talking is a birth-right
- (d) talking is a duty

Q(iii). Anne would never be able to cure herself of this habit since:

- (a) her mother also talked much
- (b) her father also talked much
- (c) her grandma also talked much
- (d) her grandpa also talked much

- Q(iv). The word 'trait' means:
- (a) a particular quantity
 - (b) a particular quality
 - (c) a particular touch
 - (d) a particular lesson

1.B Ausable did not fit any description of a secret agent Fowler had ever read. Following him down the musty corridor of the gloomy French hotel where Ausable had a room, Fowler felt let down. It was a small room, on the sixth and top floor, and scarcely a setting for a romantic adventure. Ausable was, for one thing, fat. Very fat. And then there was his accent. Though he spoke French and German passably, he had never altogether lost the American accent he had brought to Paris from Boston twenty years ago. "You are disappointed," Ausable said wheezily over his shoulder.

Q(i). Substitute the word 'musty' with ONE WORD similar in meaning, in the following sentence from extract: "Following him down the musty corridor of the gloomy French hotel where Ausable had a room..."

To,

The Editor

Subject: Chaotic traffic condition near Chintpumi

Temple Crossing

Respected Sir,

Through this letter of mine, I wish to draw the attention of the authorities towards the problems faced by students every day. We reach our college fifteen minutes late as our college bus gets stuck in a traffic jam near Chintpumi Temple crossing. People Park their vehicles in a haphazard way. Beggars crowd the gates as well as roads, waiting for someone to come out of the temple and give alms to them. There is a traffic signal at that crossing but people do not follow it.

It is my humble request, that, a parking area should be allotted to the Temple site so that people can park their vehicles in a proper way. The Temple Trust should appoint someone who can make the beggars sit in a queue, and that, too on the footpath and not on the road. And last but not the least, a police-picket should be there, at the crossing to make people follow the rules and regulations.

I hope you'll publish this letter in your esteemed newspaper so that some actions can be taken in this matter.

Thanking you

Yours sincerely

- A. The two maps below show an island, before and after the construction of some tourist facilities. Write an analytical paragraph in 100-120 words by selecting and reporting the main features, and making comparisons where relevant.

SA2. Ans:

Transformation of an Island

Both maps display an Island, before and after it was developed for tourism. The island is approximately 250 metres long, has palm trees dotted around it, is surrounded by ocean and has a beach to the, west Over the period, the island was completely transformed with the addition of a hotel and a pier; however, the eastern part of the island appears to have, been left undeveloped. The most noticeable additions arc the hotel rooms. 6 buildings, surrounding some trees, have been built, in the west of the island and 9 buildings have been constructed in the centre of the island.

Between the two accommodation areas, a reception building and a restaurant have, been developed. A pier has also been built on the south coast, of the, island, allowing yachts access to the resort. Apart from the trees, the beach remains the, only natural feature to remain relatively untouched; however, it does appear that it is now used for swimming.

Write an analytical paragraph in 100-120 words, analysing the given information.

SB. Ans:

Positive Effects of Quitting Smoking

Smoking is the silent killer that affects a large number of people around the world. The negative effects of tobacco smoke are well known, but the good news is that the positive effects of kicking the habit can't be missed. A smoker can leave the habit forever and can see the amazing results to live a healthier and happier life. As part of a report released by the World Health organization for World No Tobacco Day, the potentially devastating effects of smoking can be successfully reversed. After just 20 minutes, the first health improvements begin with a drop-in heart rate and blood pressure. Within 12 hours carbon monoxide levels drop to normal and after a few weeks lung function increases and circulation improves. Within 1-9 months the person experiences decreased coughing and shortness of breath. Even the elevated risk of stroke or coronary heart disease is gone within 15 years. Cancer of lungs along with that of mouth, throat, oesophagus, bladder, cervix and pancreas also becomes a much less significant threat after about ten years. So, quitting smoking is the best decision a smoker can take to improve the quality of his life.
